

Harvest Review

A farm-wide, in-depth analysis

Harvest Review is a solution that blends quantitative information with the development of your future production strategy. Our consultative, whole-farm approach enables you to make informed decisions and choose what to optimize on your farm. You receive boots-on-the-ground support along the way and our team will streamline your data to make the process simple and seamless.

Key findings

- Discover how your field performed against your overall plan with a thorough understanding of the driving factors on your farm.
- Get a clear field-of-vision to your yield variability, production expenses and historical performance. You'll also be able to compare against other fields or constant rate application.

Connecting the dots

- Trust that your farm information seamlessly integrates through proper equipment configuration and linking of systems.

Partner experience

- Work collaboratively with your agronomist to find patterns and receive guidance on your farm's assessment.
- Turn your recommendations into actionable business decisions that drive growth and efficiency.
